

1994 REGULATORY STATUS OF GRASS CARP

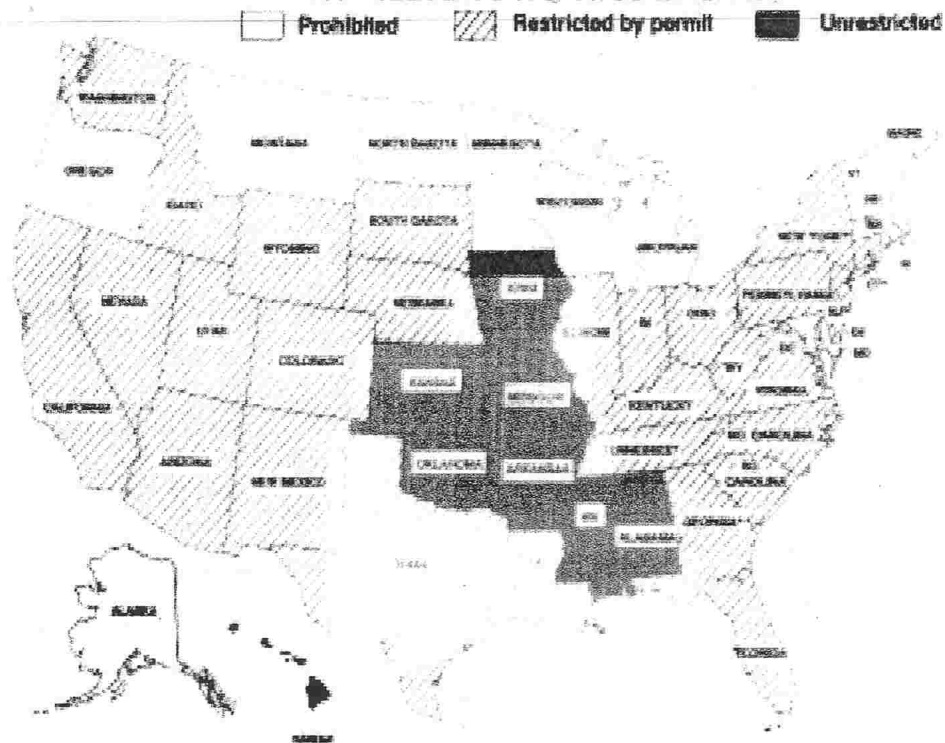

Figure 1. 1994 regulatory status of grass carp. Prohibited means that both diploid and triploid grass carp are illegal, the only exception being for research at enclosed locations. Restricted means that triploid grass carp are used by the state to manage some public waters (Note: New Jersey and Connecticut do not use the fish in public waters) and private citizens may also use the fish by permit (Note: Georgia and Tennessee do not issue permits but do allow triploids. New York does not allow private use). Unrestricted means that both diploid and triploid grass carp can be used without permit.
